

DAILY LOUISVILLE DEMOCRAT.

VOLUME XII.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1856.

NUMBER 155.

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT,
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.,
Office on Third street, between Market and Jefferson, East side.

TERMS.

Daily Democrat per page, payable quarterly
In advance
Ten Cents per page, payable in Advance
Daily Democrat, county edition, per year
Two dollars per annum
The cost of Advertising square of fifteen cent insertion
One mouth, without advertisement
One three months
One square six months
Each additional square for six months
One square twelve months
One square twelve months, renewable once a week
One square twelve months, renewable twice
Each additional square for twelve months
Additional advertising at proportionate price.
By an special arrangement with our printer,
we are enabled to reproduce it in this issue, weekly;
semi-monthly, bi-monthly, or monthly, are charged 15 per cent. extra for each insertion.

The printing of your paper is carefully conducted to insure a clear and regular business, and the business of advertising will not be considered as being in the nature of a sale.

Let no illustrations, Advertising.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WILLIAM KAYE,

BELL AND BRASS FOUNDER,
Water street, between First and Second, Louisville.

NEW YORK

Steam Sugar Refining Company.

DUMMELIN, BELL & CO., Agents,
No. 455 MAIN STREET.

W. B. CURRIN, W. H. DAVIDSON, THOS. L. CARTER,

CLINTON, DAYBROOK & CO.,

BANKERS, CORNER OF MAIN

AND WATER STREETS, interested allowed up on deposit to the amount of $100,000.

Purchase by mail, telegraph, and cable.

Buy and demand bills.

Due date, and promptly remit proceeds, and do all business through principal banking.

The National Hotel, SITUATED AT THE CORNER OF Main and Main streets, is now open for the accommodation of the public.

The furniture is new, Furniture, Bedding,

etc., etc., etc.,

The entrance to the Hotel is on Fourth street, near the corner of Main and Market.

James M. Arden & Co., Proprietors.

MCLAUGHLIN & RUGGLES,

House, Signs, & Steamboat Painters,

GLASS STAINERS & DECORATORS,

STAINED GLASS IN ALL ITS

GLORY, for churches, public and private buildings, 1500 windows in 1500 towns except New York.

No. 85 Main street, Louisville.

R. ZIMMER,
WIG MAKER,

No. 90 Fourth st.,

West side, between Main and Market.

INVENTOR OF THE DIAMOND
WING and Hand, is in practice in this city.

Wigs and wigs will be made to any size.

Also, hair of every description, as hair for wigs, and fine hair for hats.

For Ladies' Hair Dressing, a gather at their resi-ence, J. ZIMMER.

Carter & Jones,
FORWARDING AND GENERAL

CONTRACTORS, Real Estate, Ky. We, the holders of a forwarding and General Contractors, have taken the head of the business, and have taken

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT,
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.,
THIRD STREET,
East side, between Market and Jefferson streets.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING NOTICE.—All advertisements, &c., are charged five cents per square of ten lines agate the first insertion, and twice the price each subsequent insertion.

Advertisements of Situations Wanted, Religious, Charitable, Marriage, and Ordinary Notices, one cent per line.

Advertisements published in the morning paper are inserted in the evening edition at half price.

ALL TRADE ADVERTISEMENTS FEEABLE IN ADVANCE.

THURSDAY, - - - JANUARY 17, 1856.

Important Notice.

We find it necessary to call the attention of our yearly advertisers to the fact that after the 1st of January, 1856, we shall confine them strictly to their contracts, or, what amounts to the same, charge extra for all over and above. Some of our advertisers have been getting along twice as much as their contracts called for; we cannot permit it any longer. See our published terms.

The terms of peace proposed to the Czar by the Allies, preclude the possibility of an adjustment. Russia is to have no military marine in the Black Sea. She is not to rebuild or fortify Sevastopol. Consuls are to be placed in the ports of the Black Sea, who shall report on the strictly commercial character of the Russian vessels. She is to have no protectorate over the Greek Christians in Turkey. She is to cede to the Allies the months of the Danube.

Terms more humiliating could hardly be devised; and it is not difficult to foresee that they will be rejected with contempt. The success of the late campaign does not justify any such terms. It is quite certain which has had the worst of it. The Crimeas still in the hands of Russia, notwithstanding the vast expenditure of blood and treasure. Kara was taken, and the Anglo-Turkish army is in the hands of Russia. She has gained as much as she has lost, perhaps, by the capture of this important position.

In addition to the terms submitted, relative to the Eastern portion of the Russian Empire, some restrictions of the Russian power in the Baltic are proposed, where the Allies have accomplished nothing at all.

If such be the temper of the Allies, peace is not to be expected until another campaign; and yet we cannot but regard the contest as a vain one, that will cost more than it will ever come to. The old Napoleon made an experiment upon Russia and failed. He had more judgment as to where to strike the blow than the Allies; but he made the grand mistake of his life in his attack upon Russia.

The total population of New York, according to last year's census, was 3,470,029; an increase since 1845, 865,564; native and naturalized voters, 516,745; colored persons not taxed, 36,123; aliens, 622,733; total number, deducting aliens and colored persons, 2,797,416. New York contains a comparatively large proportion of foreign-born citizens, yet there is not more than one voter of that class to nine or ten of the native-born; and yet foreign influence is a prodigious bugbear that demagogues have gotten up to frighten black-heads.

It would be a matter of consequence to the South if there were some men North, outside of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

In our columns yesterday we copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer what purported to be a speech of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, addressed to the audience on Saturday night, at the National Theatre, in Cincinnati. We read it with some surprise, and published it as rather an odd item of news. It was a benefit occasion, and a full and fashionable house greeted her, and such an address would neither reflect credit upon Mrs. H. nor gratify the audience to whom it was spoken. Her husband, in the following note, puts an end to this very bad speech. The same, however, was published in the Cincinnati Columbian for Tuesday:

GALT HOUSE, Cincinnati, January 15, 1856.

Sirs: Is the Democracy of this country, see what purpose is to be subservient to the subversion of the Democratic party, who took even moderate ground on the slavery question, equivocal though it might be. If we could count the few Northern men voting for Fugler as reliable, and likely to be sustained at home; but read what the Cincinnati Commercial says about one of them, and he is in like condition with all the rest. The Commercial also exposes the character of Know-Nothingism in Ohio. It was and is simply a tool of the Abolitionists.

The telegraph tells us of six or seven who have left Richardson; only three of those mentioned have ever voted for him, and they are from South Carolina.

</

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SWINNERS
Photograph and Daguerrean Gallery,
No. 515 Main street, between Third and Fourth.
All work done at this establishment will be executed bear and reasonable prices.

Why Females Suffer in Health.

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION,
BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU, Author of "The Medical Guide for the Protection & Welfare of Women."
One Hundred and Sixty-four pages, pp. 250, standard work of established reputation, published in the catalogues of the great Trade-Sales of New York, Philadelphia, and other cities, and sold by the principal booksellers in the United States.

Every woman can here discover, by comparing her own symptoms with those described, the nature, character, and cause of her complaints, and be spared much unnecessary trouble and expense in the choice of a physician or in making inquiry of a physician in respect to the numerous ailments to which she is subject.

The wife about becoming a mother has often needed of instruction and advice in respect to her situation, which she here finds. This book tells her what to do, and tells her what to do in, in simple language, and in such a clear and understandable manner.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

In a copy of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," every female has a physician that knows
and understands every symptom, feeling, and ailment,
and which she can consult at times without risking
her sensibilities.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Dayton, Ohio.—
Dayton, Jan. 1, 1847.
Dear Sir,—My MS. will be sent you per post, containing a copy of the
In consequence of great anguish and suffering some time past, I have been compelled to give up my home, and have made arrangements to go to a place where I can live in comparative quiet and quietude. That they better understand is irrefutable;

natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

In a copy of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," every female has a physician that knows
and understands every symptom, feeling, and ailment,
and which she can consult at times without risking
her sensibilities.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Dayton, Ohio.—
Dayton, Jan. 1, 1847.
Dear Sir,—My MS. will be sent
you per post, containing a copy of the
In consequence of great anguish and suffering some time past, I have been compelled to give up my home, and have made arrangements to go to a place where I can live in comparative quiet and quietude. That they better understand is irrefutable;

natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

Those suffering from nervousness, hysterics, &c., peculiar
to the female system, or from prostration (fall
of the womb), or from feverish affections, will find it
it gives the means of prevention, amelioration, and
relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniary
loss, may be avoided, if the simplest
laws concerning the medical service are understood.

That they better understand is irrefutable;
natural and almost commendable sensibility
will rather suffer than consult or converse with
even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar

to the female system.

BOOKS & MUSIC.

NEW BOOKS AT RINGGOLD'S,
No. 49 Fourth street, New York.

"Dickens' New Christmas Story for 1852—The Holly Tree—The Young King—The Black Dwarf—The Little Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents. "A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The Hobbit, etc., etc. 12 cents. "A New Year's Present—Post Office Department" by J. Horrocks, 12mo, 42 pp.; price $1.25; elegantly illustrated with 16 steel portraits by D. C. Cooke, and 16 colored illustrations by G. H.
Dore. "A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The
Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples & S. L. 12 cents.

"A New Year's Present—The Black Dwarf—The Hobbit, humor, and washer." Apples &

